Memo

To: Graduate Students
From: School of Graduate Studies
Date: August 23, 2018
Re: Examinations and Courses to Fulfill Language Requirements 2018-2019

The following exams are open to graduate students who need to fulfill language requirements. Please contact the relevant graduate department to register for the exam or for more information.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LANGUAGE/GRAD UNIT</th>
<th>DATE AND TIME</th>
<th>LOCATION</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| CLASSICS           | September 14, 2018, 1-3 pm | Room LI103
Lillian Massey Building
125 Queen’s Park |

Note: Non-Departmental Qualifying Latin Examination. Bilingual dictionaries are allowed. Students must register with Coral Gavrilovic (k.gavrilovic@utoronto.ca) at least two weeks in advance of the exam. Consult the department for the date of the spring examination.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>ITALIAN</th>
<th>February 28, 2019, 1-3 pm</th>
<th>Room TBA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>

Note: Bilingual dictionaries are allowed. Students must register with the Italian Studies graduate coordinator (italian.grad@utoronto.ca) at least two weeks in advance of the exam. We also require from students the name and email address of their home graduate coordinator so that we could inform them about the results of the examination.

SLAVIC

Note: Exams are offered on an individual student basis twice a year, normally in late October or in February, but are not scheduled unless required. Students who wish to take an exam in any of the following listed languages (Croatian, Czech, Macedonian, Polish, Russian, Serbian, Ukrainian, Finnish) should contact slavic@chass.utoronto.ca at least one month in advance and indicate which language they wish to be tested in, which department requires the test, and what kind of test is required (e.g. reading competence, speaking fluency, writing).
SPANISH & PORTUGUESE       November 2, 2018, 10-12       Location TBA

Students who would like to sit for a Spanish or a Portuguese exam must register with Sara Solis (sara.solis@utoronto.ca) at least two weeks in advance of the exam. Students should write stating the language of the exam, and providing the name and email address of their home graduate coordinator so that we could inform them about the results of the examination.

Note: Bilingual dictionaries are allowed.

EAST ASIAN STUDIES

Note: Students who need to be examined in Mandarin, Korean or Japanese should contact Natasja VanderBerg (eas.grad@utoronto.ca).

FRENCH

FSL6000HF, Reading French       Tuesdays, 4-6       Teefy Hall, 101
FSL6000HS, Reading French       Tuesdays, 4-6       Teefy Hall, 101

Note: Open to Masters and PhD graduate students who need to fulfill their graduate language requirement. On a case by case basis, students with prior language qualifications can access the exam-only option (still with course registration) after prior screening by the home department in support of the exam-only option. For more information, visit: http://french.utoronto.ca/courses/154

GERMAN

GER6000H F – Reading German, Wednesdays, 2-4 Teefy Hall Room 203
GER6000H S – Reading German, Wednesdays, 2-4 Teefy Hall Room 2

Note: This is an intensive course that covers German grammar with focus on acquiring essential structures of the German language to develop translation skills. The course is conducted in English, with a focus on reading and translating German. Prior knowledge of German not mandatory. U of T graduate students who are not enrolled in either the fall or spring course but wish to write the exam may contact the German graduate office at 416-926-2321 for registration This course is not intended for MA or PhD students in German.