The GPD programming helps me build skills that I don’t necessarily learn in the lab, but which made an impact on how I conduct and share my research — especially in translating research, negotiating funding, and fostering collaborations.

“Building professional skills can broaden your career possibilities, both inside and outside academia.”

SGS Graduate Professional Development
gpd@utoronto.ca
uoft.me/gpd
416-946-3234

For programming or event information contact
Liam O’Leary
Graduate Programming Coordinator
liam.oleary@utoronto.ca

For general enquiries contact
Karen Williamson
Administrative Coordinator, Graduate Professional Development and Engagement and Graduate Programming
ka.williamson@utoronto.ca

School of Graduate Studies
University of Toronto
63 St. George Street
Toronto, Ontario, M5S 2Z9 Canada
www.sgs.utoronto.ca

Locke Rowe,
Dean, School of Graduate Studies and Vice Provost, Graduate Research & Education
Prepare yourself for diverse career opportunities in today’s global job market.

The School of Graduate Studies (SGS) and its partners offer a range of programs and events designed to build your professional skills and broaden your career networks.

GPD Programs

GPS
The Graduate Professional Skills (GPS) Program can help you communicate better, plan and manage your time, learn entrepreneurial and leadership skills, and understand and apply ethical practices.

www.sgs.utoronto.ca/gps

SGS Innovation in GPD Fund for Student Associations
Do you have an initiative that develops or expands Graduate Professional Development (GPD)? Find out about funding eligibility requirements.

uoft.me/innovationfund

GPD Events

SGS Opening Doors November 2016
Hear professionals share their career narratives and answer questions in this event tailored to graduate students in the humanities, life sciences, social sciences, and physical sciences.

uoft.me/openingdoors

SGS Three Minute Thesis (3MT®) March 2017
Can you present complex research in an engaging, accessible way? In this university-wide competition for doctoral candidates, participants have three minutes to present their research to a panel of non-specialist judges.

uoft.me/3MT

SGS Summer Institute June 2017
Take part in this intensive series offering three streams of skill-based workshops: leadership development, managing transitions, and landing an academic job.

uoft.me/summerinstitute

GPD Program Partners

English Language & Writing Support (ELWS)
Get advanced training in academic writing and speaking through free courses, workshops, and writing consultations. ELWS trains both native and non-native speakers of English to communicate clearly to a range of audiences through genres such as proposals, articles, and dissertations.

www.sgs.utoronto.ca/elws

Career Centre
Plan your career search, explore your interests, participate in experiential and peer-to-peer learning, and learn how to authentically represent yourself in the job application process. The Career Centre offers a full range of career education and exploration programming.

www.careers.utoronto.ca

U of T Libraries
Find out how the University of Toronto Libraries can support your research and scholarly communications. Attend a workshop, or book a one-on-one consultation with a librarian for help with search strategies and resources for your research.

www.library.utoronto.ca/ask

Centre for Teaching Support and Innovation (CTSI)
Hone your teaching skills through CTSI’s Teaching Assistants’ Training Program (TATP). TATP offers two certificate programs in teaching preparation and hosts a workshop series in addition to teaching events and institutes. It also encourages online sharing of teaching resources through the TATP Teaching Toolkit.

tatp.utoronto.ca