Equity, diversity, and inclusion initiatives at NSERC

• NSERC’s focus on EDI
• Why is EDI important?
• EDI data collection
NSERC is committed to implementing policies and processes which identify and mitigate barriers and biases within our programs.
Why is EDI important?

- Access the largest pool of qualified applicants
- Expand collective intelligence, discovery, and innovation

Research team
- Enhance the scientific quality and usefulness of NSE research
- Increase the overall excellence of the research

Research design
Considerations
- Who are the research subjects and end-users?
- What are the consequences of not including diversity?

Additional resources
- NSERC’s Framework on EDI
- Guide for Applicants: Considering EDI in your application
- Gendered Innovations employs methods of diversity analysis to create new knowledge
- Examples and case studies at: http://genderedinnovations.stanford.edu/
EDI data collection

- Collection of self-identification data
- Monitor equity performance of programs
- Inform future measures to increase EDI in research enterprise
Visible Minorities

Do you identify as a member of a visible minority in Canada?

- [ ] Yes

Note: Visible minority refers to whether a person belongs to a visible minority group as defined by the Employment Equity Act and, if so, the visible minority group to which the person belongs. The Employment Equity Act defines visible minorities as "persons, other than Aboriginal peoples, who are non-Caucasian in race or non-white in colour".

If "Yes", select the options that you identify with.

I prefer not to answer

To select or deselect one or more options, hold down the "Control" key while clicking on all the relevant options.
