FEDERAL TRI-COUNCILS

The major federal source of funds for research and scholarship in academic institutions

– Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR)
– Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC)
– Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC)

Please Note: You may submit only one application per year to only one granting agency (NSERC, CIHR or SSHRC), with the exception of Vanier. Applications to multiple agencies will be disqualified.
SSHRC BASIC CRITERIA

Applications to SSHRC must meet the following two criteria:

1. The proposed research or related activities must be primarily in the social sciences and humanities (i.e., aligned with SSHRC’s legislated mandate).

2. The intended outcome of research must primarily be to add to our understanding and knowledge of individuals, groups, and societies – what we think, how we live, and how we interact with each other and the world around us.

Selecting the Appropriate Federal granting agency:

SSHRC Guidelines for Eligibility of Applications Related to Heath:

Subject Matter Eligibility

Overview

General Guidelines for the Eligibility of Subject Matter at SSHRC
Guidelines for the Eligibility of Applications Related to Health
Guidelines for the Eligibility of Applications in Psychology

Overview

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC), the Natural Sciences and Engineering Research Council (NSERC) and the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR) support and promote high-quality research in a wide variety of disciplines and areas. This includes research that bridges more than one discipline or that requires the skills of several disciplines.

SSHRC collaborates closely with the other granting agencies to encourage and promote support to the full range of social science and humanities research and research training, including collaboration across disciplines and subject areas. The following guidelines have been prepared to assist applicants in directing their proposals to the most appropriate funding agency. These guidelines apply to research, research training, and related activities such as conferences or scholarly journals. In any given application, applicants should apply to the agency that is responsible for the dominant research discipline or area. A researcher, research team or student may not submit the same application to more than one of the three federal research granting agencies.

Complete guidelines on selecting the appropriate federal granting agency are available at www.schience.gc.ca.

General Guidelines for the Eligibility of Subject Matter at SSHRC

Applications to SSHRC as the primary source of research or research training support must meet the following two criteria:

- The proposed research or related activities must be primarily in the social sciences and humanities (i.e., aligned with SSHRC’s legislated mandate).
Subject Matter Eligibility – interdisciplinary/health related research

Applicants with questions or whose subject matter has a link, overlap, or future application to health (in particular studying a disease population, therapy or health systems), should email fellowships@sshrc-crsh.gc.ca with a one page summary of their research proposal in advance of submitting an application to seek clarification or a ruling.

Include a copy of the ruling/email confirmation from SSHRC with your application.

Note, the use of social sciences or humanities theories, methodologies and hypotheses is, in and of itself, not sufficient to make a proposal eligible for SSHRC funding.

Complete guidelines on selecting the appropriate federal granting agency are available at www.science.gc.ca.
Revised Guidelines for Eligibility of Applications Related to Health

SSHRC expanded its funding of health-related research projects with a focus on social sciences and humanities.

Eligible projects include:

- General well-being and work-life balance related topics
- Health ethics
- Social construction of health and health behavior

Certain areas will remain ineligible:

- Clinical education or research
- Therapy (e.g. counselling, interventions, psychotherapy, rehabilitation, speech and occupational therapy, validation/testing of diagnostic tools)
- Kinesiology and epidemiology

Be sure to provide a compelling justification for why your research falls under SSHRC if your proposal is interdisciplinary or crosses over with health.
SSHRC Doctoral Competition

SSHRC offers two types of funding for doctoral students:

1. SSHRC Doctoral Fellowships (SSHRC)
2. Joseph-Armand Bombardier Graduate Scholarship (CGS): Doctoral Scholarships

Applicants apply for both awards by completing one application form.

If you are eligible for both awards, SSHRC will automatically consider you for both.

Most Canadian universities receive a quota indicating the number of students they can nominate for the national competition.
VALUE AND TENURE

CGS Doctoral - Joseph-Armand Bombardier Program
- $35,000 a year for 36 months
- Can only be held at a recognized Canadian university

SSHRC Doctoral Fellowships
- $20,000 a year for up to 48 months
- Can be held at a recognized university in Canada or abroad

SSHRC determines the value and duration of an award based on the number of months of full-time doctoral completed by December 31 of the year of application. (Not the proposed start date of the award)
ELIGIBILITY
ELIGIBILITY of DEGREE PROGRAM

SSHRC Doctoral Awards are tenable only in degree programs that include significant original, autonomous research that leads to the completion of a:

- Dissertation; or
- Major scholarly publication; or
- Performance/recital; or
- Exhibit

which is a requirement for the completion of the program and is merit reviewed at the institutional level.
ELIGIBILITY TO APPLY

Applicants must:

• Be applying for support to pursue doctoral studies in social sciences or humanities
• Be a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada as of the graduate unit application deadline date;
• Have completed no more than the allowable months of study in the doctoral program as of December 31st of the year of application (discussed further in next slide);
• Submit only one doctoral award application in a given academic year. Nominations to the Vanier CGS program do not count towards this limit;
• Have not already received a doctoral-level scholarship or fellowship from CIHR, NSERC, or SSHRC
• Be applying for support to pursue your doctoral studies in the social sciences or humanities;

At the time of application, you need not be assured of admission to a degree program.
MONTHS OF STUDY

CGS Doctoral - Joseph-Armand Bombardier Program
• have completed no more than 24 months of full-time study in their doctoral program by December 31st of the year of application (no more than 36 months if transferred directly from Bachelors to a PhD or enrolled in joint program, e.g., MD/PhD, MA/PhD)

SSHRC Doctoral Fellowships
• have completed no more than 48 months of full-time study in their doctoral program by December 31st of the year of application

NEW: The months of study completed are calculated starting from the date on which an applicant is officially registered in the doctoral program. This applies to applicants:
• registered in a Master’s program and subsequently transferred to a doctoral program (fast-track); or
• registered in a doctoral program, even if a Master’s degree is obtained as part of the program (e.g., MA/PhD).
MONTHS OF STUDY

NEW: SSHRC applicants who are beyond the eligible months of study for the CGS D, may continue to apply up until their 48th month of study (as of December 31st) and will be considered for a SSHRC Doctoral Fellowship.

MA/PhD and direct-entry PhD students:

- Are eligible to apply for either a CGS Master's award or a Doctoral award if they have completed between zero and 12 months of graduate-level study by December 31, 2019. (Cannot apply to both).
- Students who have completed more than 12 months of graduate-level study by December 31, 2019 can only apply for a Doctoral Award.

UNDERGRADUATES

Undergraduate students applying to a direct entry doctoral program (i.e. never enrolled in a master’s program) should apply for a CGS M to hold in their first year as they are ineligible to apply for a CGS D until they are registered in the doctoral program. In other words, students in a direct entry doctoral program must wait until they are registered in their first year of their doctoral studies in order to apply for a CGS D.

SELF-IDENTIFICATION DATA

Beginning in August 2018, SSHRC (in coordination with NSERC and CIHR) are asking all applicants to self-identify with information on age, gender, Indigenous identity, disability and visible minority status.

A harmonized self-identification data collection process allows the granting agencies to monitor the equity performance of its programs and design new measures that achieve greater equity, diversity and inclusion in the research enterprise.

Completing the new self-identification form will be mandatory for applicants and co-applicants but for each category there is an option “I prefer not to answer.”

INDIGENOUS APPLICANTS

Applicants who are Indigenous [First Nations (North American Indian - Status and Non-Status), Métis, or Inuit] are encouraged to self-identify their status on their SSHRC Doctoral application form as universities are permitted to recommend to the national competition self-identified Indigenous applicants above the institution’s application quota.

In order to be considered for this, Indigenous applicants are asked to select the “Option for Self-Identified Indigenous Applicants” in the “Application Profile” section of the online application form. Once completed, this information will be only be visible to university administrators. Self-identification data are not seen or used by SSHRC’s selection committee members or by the applicant’s references.
INDIGENOUS APPLICANTS

Indigenous applicants may also complete the allowable inclusion section to explain any special circumstances that may have delayed their academic career (e.g., cultural or community responsibilities, and/or challenging socio-economic contexts). This information should be taken into account by selection committee members.

INDIGENOUS RESEARCH

Applicants may identify a proposed program of study as Indigenous research, such that SSHRC’s Guidelines for the Merit Review of Indigenous Research will apply.
There are 2 parts to each application:
Curriculum Vitae & SSHRC Doctoral Awards application
Both sections must be completed and verified in order to submit the full application.

• identify the degree program that you will pursue, including any relevant courses, and provide an explanation for your choice; and
• provide an outline of your doctoral thesis or research project, including the research question(s), context, objectives, methodology and significance and expected contribution to the advancement of knowledge, and your special interests in the proposed area of research.
RESEARCH PROPOSAL, max 2 pgs

REQUIRED ELEMENTS TO BE INCLUDED if you are currently enrolled in a doctoral degree program:

• clearly state your current level of graduate study;
• indicate at what stage you are in your thesis/research project;
• provide the name of your supervisor of doctoral studies, if known;
• provide an outline of your thesis or research project, including, for example, the research question(s), context, objectives, methodology and significance and expected contribution to the advancement of knowledge; and
• describe what you hope to accomplish during the award tenure and what will remain to be done before you obtain your degree.
Bibliography and Citations, max 5 pages

• a bibliography for your proposed research (do not upload publications or include endnotes); and
• bibliographic details for all citations included in your research proposal (ensure that these are clear and complete to allow reviewers to locate the sources easily).
RESEARCH PROPOSAL TIPS

• Write a clear and concise research proposal that an educated non-expert could understand
  – Objectives, Hypothesis, Experimental approach/Methods, Significance
• Give your proposal to as many people as possible to review – ideally a professor/senior graduate student who can critique it
• Read the proposal out loud to yourself and others. If it doesn’t sound natural, then it needs more work
• Engage the reviewer
• Importance/Significance – you want your reviewer to advocate for your application

Your application will be reviewed by members of a multidisciplinary selection committee, not all of whom will be familiar with your area of research.
COMMON MISTAKES

- Lack of focus or coherence
- Repetitiveness
- Failure to cite important work in the area
- Failure to cite recent relevant work
- Citing too many irrelevant articles
- Relying too much on secondary sources (lack of understanding)
- Too much detail on minor issues; too little detail on major issues
- Research contributions not properly highlighted
- Impact / importance of research not explained
WRITING SUPPORT

- The following departments/faculties offer writing support through one-on-one consultations:
  - Architecture
  - OISE
  - Dentistry
  - Nursing
  - Pharmacy
  - Physical Education
  - Social Work.

- If you are not part of these departments, you may also visit the Graduate Centre for Academic Communication.
Welcome to the Graduate Centre for Academic Communication (GCAC). GCAC provides graduate students with advanced training in academic writing and speaking.

We are now located on the first floor of the McMurrich Building (12 Queen’s Park Crescent West).

Graduate students need to be able to communicate sophisticated information to sophisticated audiences. As you prepare to attend your first conference, to write your first proposal, or to publish your first paper, you will need stronger communication skills than those needed in undergraduate work. By emphasizing professional development rather than remediation, GCAC can help you cultivate the ability to diagnose and address the weaknesses in your oral and written work.

https://www.sgs.utoronto.ca/resources-supports/gcac/
Registration for September 2019 GCAC courses opens on Friday August 30th at 10:00 a.m.

Students may register in a maximum of two GCAC courses in the September session

Note: If you need to know the location of a course in which you are registered, please check your registration confirmation email. That email is sent to the address that is listed in your official U of T profile.

It is the applicant’s responsibility to ensure that all required application components have been submitted (including all attachments and letters). The system does not allow submission of incomplete applications.

Contact referees early to inquire about a possible POSITIVE & enthusiastic reference.

Notify your referees in advance that they will be receiving an invitation by email with the subject line “Invitation to provide a letter of appraisal—Invitation à fournir une lettre d’appréciation.”

Make sure to give your referee enough time to complete and submit their support letter in advance of your graduate unit deadline date.
LETTERS OF APPRAISAL, max 1 pg

Letters must be very strong and enthusiastic as they are a major component of the application.

In addition to assessing your research ability/potential and the relevance of your experience and achievements obtained within and beyond academia, referees should demonstrate how your attributes and qualifications surpass selection criteria and why you are worthy of receiving the award.

Feel free to remind them of your contributions and information you would like to have in the letter (screenshot available in this presentation);

Follow-up prior to the deadline (note you must have both references completed before you can submit your application); and

Remember to give them a big thank you.

Additional Tips
What Makes a Great Merit Based Application?

Advice from Graduate Awards Office & Prof. Malcolm Campbell - Former Vice-Principal Research, UTSC

• Reviewers spend 6-8 minutes on each application. You have a short period of time to sell yourself on paper.

• Selection/Evaluation Criteria – make sure you “hit” them all
Academic Achievements

• Reviewers look heavily at PROGRESS. Ongoing awards look good. Publications, historical grade trends, and PRODUCTIVITY

• Your contributions/role in a project, impact of the work, awards, presentations, research background, communication achievements, leadership roles (volunteer, elected positions, clubs, sports, etc.)

• Limit to university level achievements
Writing Style/Formatting

• Make it easy for the reviewer to find key information
• Use headings
• Apply boldface or underlined text strategically
• Be clear, succinct, scholarly but understandable
• Be straight forward, emphasize strengths, not a time to be shy
• Follow formatting standards
